The economy of Georgia is an emerging free market. Its gross domestic product fell sharply following the collapse of the Soviet Union but recovered in the mid-2000s, growing in double digits thanks to the economic and democratic reforms brought by the peaceful Rose Revolution. Georgia continued its economic progress since, "moving from a near-failed state in 2003 to a relatively well-functioning ...

Table 1 presents basic summary statistics for our sample of firms for which we have panel data. To avoid extremely fast-growing firms driving the results, we excluded the top one percent of the growth distribution from the sample. 12 Table 1 illustrates clearly that we are working on a panel of rather large formal firms: 36% are outward looking (exporting either directly or indirectly), 12% ...
