The Glasgow Subway is an underground rapid transit line in Glasgow, Scotland. Opened on 14 December 1896, it is the third-oldest underground metro system in the world after the London Underground and the Budapest Metro. It is also one of the very few railways in the world with a track running gauge of 4 ft (1,219 mm). Formerly a cable railway, the Subway was later electrified, but its twin ...

Origins and development. The area around Glasgow has hosted communities for millennia, with the River Clyde providing a natural location for fishing. The Romans later built outposts in the area and, to keep Roman Britannia separate from the Celtic and Pictish Caledonia, constructed the Antonine Wall. Items from the wall like altars from Roman forts like Balmuildy can be found at the Hunterian ...

Thousands Feared At Risk From Asbestos On Warships. Help came too late for former navy medical corpsman Harvey Friesen. Friesen, 72, has terminal lung cancer caused by asbestos exposure during his service on the frigate HMCS New Glasgow and he fears thousands of other ex-servicemen may be at risk of sharing his fate. "Warn ex-sailors about asbestos, dying veteran urges military."
